Residential Sector

Private Home Renovation

The boutique building contractor requested expert advice from the team at Techforce Electrical for this small home renovation. Thorough lighting design consultation meant that the owner could get the optimum result from their home improvements.

Kitchen, dining and alfresco areas were updated part of the renovation. Energy efficient lighting solutions were used throughout providing a cost effective and environmentally friendly solution whilst introducing a modern aesthetic.

“Exactus Homes has engaged Techforce electrical as our preferred supplier for all electrical installations to our renovation and new home construction projects. We have found them to be consistently reliable and punctual. Their workmanship is exceptional. This particular project entailed re-wiring the existing dwelling and wiring to the new construction. As the home had been extended several times, it was a complex project. Techforce Electrical completed the project without issue and the client is very satisfied with the final outcome. I would not hesitate to recommend Techforce Electrical to other builders or clients.”
